Water main breaks being repaired Monday in Okanagan Landing and Bella Vista areas of Vernon

Several properties in the south end of Vernon are experiencing water service interruptions today (Monday), as crews are addressing a number of water main breaks in the Okanagan Landing and Bella Vista areas of the community. Crews are on site of the breaks to make repairs and the cause of the breaks is being investigated.

Areas where properties may be experiencing water service interruptions, include:

- 2800-block of Allenby Way (30 properties)
- 2900-block of Lardeau Way (30 properties)
- 2700-block of Alvaston Place (20 properties)
- 6700-block of Longacre Drive (50 properties)
- 4500-block of 31st Street (10 properties)

The following road closures are temporarily in effect (These areas are open to local traffic only):

- Allenby Way from Allenby Crescent to 27th Avenue
- Lardeau Way from Alvaston Place to Heritage Drive
- Longacre Drive between Okanagan Avenue and Apollo Road

Motorists are asked to slow down and obey traffic control measures as they move through the affected areas.

Repairs to the water infrastructure are anticipated to be complete later today. However, please note that water service interruptions could expand without notice. Every effort is being made to minimize disruptions for customers.

The City thanks everyone for their patience and understanding as this emergency work is being conducted.
