City of Vernon seeking Board of Variance members

Are you looking for a way to get involved in your community and volunteer with the City of Vernon?

The City is seeking four (4) individuals to join the Board of Variance. Consisting of volunteer community members, the Board of Variance operates independently of City Council and considers minor variances to the Zoning Bylaw on the grounds of hardship.

Terms for these positions are for three years (expiring January 2024). Board members should be prepared to attend meetings open to the public on a monthly basis; however, meetings will only be held as required, depending on applications.

If you are interested in serving the community on this Board, you may pick up a copy of the Board of Variance Bylaw and an application form at Reception at City Hall or visit the City of Vernon website.

Additional information related to the function of a Board of Variance in British Columbia is available on the Province of B.C. website.

Applications will be accepted until all four (4) positions are filled.
